

Giampiero Bergami

Degree in Economics & Business from the University of Bologna.

Master's in Business Administration from Cornell University Ithaca (New York).

Mr. Bergami began his professional career in 1994 at HSBC (London) as a futures Options Broker.

Between 1996 and 1999 he was Derivatives Executive Director in Lehman Brothers (London), gaining further expertise in cash products, cash and interest rate derivatives, structured products and credit derivatives.

From 1999 to 2002 he served as CEO of Akros Securities Inc (New York), with the task of launching and leading the American branch of Banca Akros, which was engaged in the selling and structuring of derivative products to corporate customers.

From 2002 to 2007 he worked for the Montepaschi Group, first as Head of Corporate Finance Solutions for MPS Finance and later as Head of Key Clients.

Subsequently, he joined the Unicredit Group, serving first as Head of the North-Central Regional Area(2007-2015) and later as Head of Corporate & Investment Banking for Italy (2015-2016), coordinating the cross-selling of investment banking products for corporate clients, in Unicredit's Italian network.

Mr. Bergami re-joined BMPS in 2016 as Head of the Corporate Division in charge of managing commercial activities for corporate customers, coordinating marketing efforts as well as sales & distribution planning.

He's also:

- Chief Executive Officer MPS Capital Services Banca per le Imprese S.p.A.
- Board Member Banca Monte Paschi Belgio S.A.
- Board Member MPS Leasing & Factoring S.p.A.